p. 11 line 7th "now"
This is a false accusation implication — & the "we" — like the address of the Apostles to the
the powers of the house.
The 2 "We" is equally false
from this man who spent his best years in fighting Satan &
the Lord's. p 14th Lunacy,—
the teachers of Satan!!!!
Vice versâ! p. 18th line 15th
I warrant you! p. 20. next line misunderstood.

175

Ms. A.9.2.5.39

The Boston Evening Transcript says — "The silly attack on the Autobiography of H. M. caused a demand for that work. The ill temper & ill-breeding shown in it (the attack) reflected on the character of its author." & responden

Mrs. Miller's reply to J. M.'s voluminous assault on her Sixties Autobiography, (for that is what it is,) is admirably clear & conclusive. So also is her reply to Dr. Greenlow's heated letter: She seems to lack consistency & concealment, but I hope it comes of her lack of information, to begin with. Now that J. M. has made her known him, I trust. She may improve. [illegible] to page First anticipation the pleasure of seeing you soon, I had prepared a copy of the "Antony" for your acceptance, & will add a few lines to it; & I hope it may be soon in your hands from mine. I wish it destroyed as soon as you have read it: for it is not a graceful attitude, to be placed in a needless contest with a silly woman, & a bad man. What are those slanderous insinuations to Keats, — Who is world famous & world-esteemed & beloved? a Spirit of sect may make the Unitarian Review welcome an unworthy article, but it is a disaster to the Review.

Richard & Co are much obliged for kind notice.

177

MS H.W.S. 5.37

H. C.